Community News

September is here, bringing Labor Day weekend, back-to-school shopping, and those beautiful late-summer days we love in the Bay Area. As routines shift and a new season begins, it's the perfect time to enjoy San Bruno's sunny "Indian summer" weather, explore the neighborhood, and make the most of these final weeks of summer. Here's to a great September at Aperture!

Pet Of The Month

Casting Call!

Calling All Furry (& Furless) Residents!

We want to meet your pet! We are currently looking for new stars to feature in our Pet of the Month. We love celebrating the four-legged (and feathered!) friends that make our community so special in our monthly newsletter.

If you'd like to see your pet featured in an upcoming newsletter, simply let the office know with a cute photo and a fun fact or two (like their favorite treat, a funny quirk, or their "vibe"). Let's make your best friend a local celebrity! Reach out to the team at aperture@northcoastliving.com.

Living Well

Aperture Pollinator Program

Aperture's rooftop honeybees are doing much more than making honey! Through North Coast Living's partnership with The Best Bees Company, our hives support local pollination and biodiversity while also contributing to a nationwide network of honeybee research.

Data collected from Best Bees hives helps scientists study pollinator health, investigate declining bee populations, identify plants that best support honey production, and explore innovative solutions to protect bees from disease. Best Bees has partnered with researchers and organizations including MIT, NASA, National Geographic, and Harvard University on research to improve the health and stability of these important pollinators.

So while our bees are busy pollinating plants around Aperture and the surrounding community, they're also contributing to research that could help protect honeybees far beyond San Bruno. Pretty sweet!
